Functions and capabilities of accilium

Digital transformation within the mobility ecosystem of the future

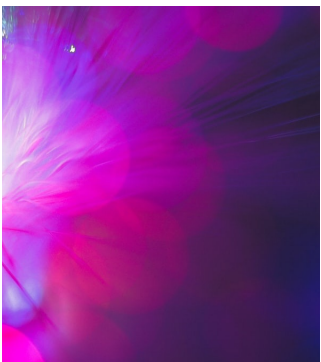

Thought Leadership

Mobility of the future and accilium's contribution

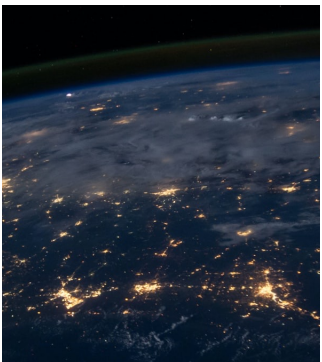

Keynotes & Presentations

To us, it is very important to not just have an opinion but in-depth competence in specific areas of mobility. If asked, we are more than happy to share, inspire or maybe enlighten.

Expert Panellist & Host

Whether as the host or as expert panellist, key to an insightful discussion is competence and experience. Not shy to expose both capabilities, when the opportunity arises.

Articles & studies

As we are focused on projects and initiatives within the mobility ecosystem, we decided to occasionally, consolidate our findings into articles, studies and white papers.

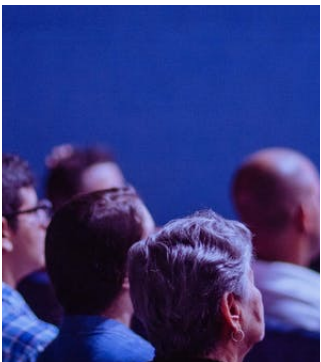

Orchestrator & Events

Dialog at eye level is a top priority for us. Being a partner at events as well as hosting our own accilium events, is only one way to underline that approach.

Collaboration with academia

As we are at the forefront of innovation, not only deciding where to look and where to go, but dealing with the consequences of digital transformation, we broaden our perspective by bringing in scientific methods and approaches.

Press & Media

Sometimes we are being recognized for our great work; that is certainly nothing we want to hide from the accilium community; quite the contrary, it makes us proud!

Projects & credentials

Our favorite work is the project work with our customers. Here we work on and learn about the challenges that come with building the Mobility ecosystem of the future.

Who is accilium?

Short introduction

- › accilium is founded on the idea that nothing is built to last unless it is built to evolve. As a management consultancy, we specialize on issues related to the future of mobility and accelerate the necessary digital transformation of our customers (well established as well as new players) within the mobility ecosystem.
- › Slowly but surely, we are being perceived for it, having been rewarded „Best Unternehmensberater“ by brandeins not once but twice. Fortunately, in exactly those areas, we focus all our efforts on
